Legislator Calarco Celebrates the 4th Annual “Ten Mile Run to the Brewery”

Patchogue, NY – On Saturday, January 18, Legislator Rob Calarco joined nearly 1,100 runners at the starting line in Patchogue Village for the Greater Long Island Running Club’s “4th annual “Ten Mile Run to the Brewery.” The ten mile course brought runners through Patchogue Village, Blue Point, Bayport and Sayville before it came back to the finish line just south of Blue Point Brewery.

The event, the first major running event on Long Island in 2014 and one of the region’s few ten mile races, also makes donations to philanthropic causes. Sponsored by the Greater Long Island Running Club, Blue Point Brewery and the Sayville Running Company, proceeds from the race will go to BULA (Better Understanding of Life in Africa) and the Patchogue-Medford Youth and Community Services.

“The historic communities of the South Shore are some of the beautiful places to run on Long Island. I commend the Greater Long Island Running Club for organizing a great event,” said Legislator Rob Calarco.

Conor Shelley won the Men’s Division with a time of 54 minutes and 54 seconds. Katie McGrath won the Women’s Division with a time of 1 hour and 3 minutes.
